HAECO Private Jet Solutions (HAECO PJS) to sign MOU with Asian Sky Group Limited (ASG) in ABACE 2015

April 14, 2015 – HAECO Private Jet Solutions (HPJS) and Asian Sky Group (ASG) are proud to announce the signing of a MOU cementing the business relationship between the two companies. The MOU provides a platform from which each company can utilize the strength of the other to the ultimate benefit of potential buyers of business aircraft. Together HPJS and ASG can now provide a comprehensive range of services that address a vast range of buyer's needs including aircraft evaluations, pre-owned aircraft sourcing, through to industrial design, engineering, certification as well as VIP cabin completion and completion management.

“The establishment of the MOU signals the growing relationship between HPJS and ASG, where the two companies can provide products and services across the entire life cycle of a business jet from the initial selection of an aircraft, to VIP aircraft interior completions, and covering everything in between. Together, we're uniquely positioned to capture the opportunities from the high growth region of Asia” commented Henry Chan, VP Business Development HAECO Private Jet Solutions.

“Asian buyers of business jets are looking for local services and support where possible. HPJS provides an industry recognized solution based in Asia with a vast array of experience. Given ASG's Asian focus as well, the bundling of our services potentially adds tremendous value for Asian buyers and, in particular, for our clients from the Greater China region“ commented Jeffrey C. Lowe, Managing Director, Asian Sky Group
